Parents and Siblings N.K.G.R. P. 44 No 4.

18.

Joh. Heinrich Hornung, 4th child, 3rd son of Valentin Hornung, master mason and citizen here, and his wife Anna Catharina née Trütz weins from Ems, was born on the 4th of July at 7 o'clock in the morning and baptized on the 9th in the afternoon. Godfather: Joh. Heinrich Graber, day laborer and citizen in Asbach near Schmalkalden.

Historical Context

This document is a handwritten entry from a German church register, specifically a baptismal record. It details the birth and baptism of Joh. Heinrich Hornung. The record provides valuable genealogical information, including the names of the parents, the father's occupation, the mother's maiden name and origin, and the name and residence of the godfather. The abbreviations used (e.g., 'K.' for Kind/child, 'S.' for Sohn/son, 'Ux.' for Uxor/wife, 'Mitn.' for Mitnachbar/citizen) are typical of German parish registers from the 18th and 19th centuries. The marginal note 'Eltern u Geschwister N.K.G.R. P. 44 No 4.' likely refers to a family register (Familienbuch) or another section of the church records where the parents and siblings are listed.

Suggested Next Steps

- You should search for the marriage record of Valentin Hornung and Anna Catharina Trützwein, which likely occurred before the birth of their first child. Given the mother's origin, the marriage might have taken place in Ems.
- You should look for the birth/baptism records of the older siblings (this is the 4th child) to build a complete family group.
- You should investigate the reference 'N.K.G.R. P. 44 No 4.' in the same parish archive, as it points directly to a family register or related record.
- You should search for records in Asbach near Schmalkalden to learn more about the godfather, Joh. Heinrich Graber, as godparents were often close relatives or friends.
- You should utilize MyHeritage's German church record collections to find related documents for the Hornung and Trützwein families.
